TG23 – Culture in Construction

Extension Mandate

This Task Group has been granted a 3-year mandate extension until the end of 2005 in a decision made at the October 2002 CIB Programme Committee meeting in Budapest, Hungary.

TG23 Scope and Objectives

- To identify and define concepts of culture in the international construction industry and to carry out research into their manifestations and effects.
- To discuss and develop appropriate methodologies for the study of culture in construction.
- To determine and, where appropriate, adopt methodologies used in other disciplines, with special reference to the Social Sciences, for researching culture in the international construction industry.
