Call for Papers

International Journal of Law in the Built Environment is a CIB Encouraged journal and the official journal of CIB Working Commission W113 on "Law & Dispute Resolution".

About the Journal

Launching in 2009, the journal provides a vehicle for the publication of high quality legal scholarship with relevance to all aspects of the design, management and use of the built environment. It publishes up-to date and original legal research contributions for the benefit of scholars, policy makers and practitioners in these areas.

In keeping with the journal's international scope, articles drawing comparisons between two or more jurisdictions and those offering theoretical cross-jurisdictional legal perspectives are particularly welcome.

A broad range of substantive legal subject areas will be addressed within the journal with an emphasis on law and dispute resolution relating to:

- Construction
- Real Estate
- Planning & Development
- The Environment
- Housing

Call for Papers

Articles are invited for this substantial new peer-reviewed journal serving the built environment research community, to be launched by Emerald Group Publishing Ltd in 2009.

Each paper is reviewed by the Editor and, if judged suitable for this publication, is then sent to two referees for double blind peer review. Based on their recommendations, the Editor then decides whether the paper should be accepted as it is, revised or rejected.

As a guide, articles should be between 4,000 and 7,500 words in length. A title of no more than eight words should be provided.

Submissions should be sent by post or e-mail to the Editor Paul Chynoweth - who also is Coordinator of CIB Working Commission W113 "Law and Dispute Resolution" - contact details given below.
