Special Track CIB World Building Congress for W096 - Architectural Management

CIB World Building Congress 2010,
Building a Better World
Salford, 10-13 May 2010

Better Building Through
Architectural Management;
Methods, Tools and Techniques

Abstract Invitation
CIB W096 Architectural Management

Purpose of the CIB W096 Architectural Management Stream

Since its formation in 1993 Architectural Management (AM) has developed into a well-established domain. Early years were focused on defining the scope of the commission, since which time the majority of the work has been centered around the theme of creating value through design, or more specifically through the effective management of design. In April 2009 the commission published its first state of the art book, (Architectural Management: international research and practice) providing a number of theoretical and practical applications of architectural management. Now, the commission's aim is to look in more detail at specific methods, tools and techniques for helping to deliver better buildings. For more information on the CIB W096 Architectural Management Commission and our contribution to the world conference please go to our website: www.bwk.tue.nl/CIB-W096/.

About the CIB World Congress 2010

The 2010 CIB World Congress is focused on Building a Better World. The construction and built environment sectors are already hugely important to achieving a world in which people are properly housed, in which buildings and transport systems support the efficient operation of our economies, and in which people are happy and healthy. But we can do better. Connecting and channelling the full capacities of the construction and built environment industries to meet the needs of the human race, head on, will transform the world, for us and for future generations.

The CIB World Congress is THE place to be to learn about the state of the art in markets, research and innovation linked to construction and the built environment. For more information about the world conference please go to: www.cib2010.com/.
