CIB World Congress 2010

Special Track TG63

In May 2010, the CIB World Congress, Building a Better World, will take place in Salford, UK www.cib2010.com. Task Group TG63 will be hosting a theme on disasters and the built environment at the Congress and we invite interested researchers in the field of disasters to submit an abstract and participate in this theme.

Papers that focus on disaster mitigation, response or reconstruction, are encouraged. This may include, but is not limited to:

- Restoration and rehabilitation of major infrastructure
- Construction project management for post-disaster reconstruction
- Assessment of disaster-related damage
- Building resilience auditing
- Procuring and supplying temporary services and shelter
- Disaster risk reduction activities
- Linking reconstruction to sustainable economic development
- Participatory approaches to reconstruction
- Inclusion of women and vulnerable groups
- Waste management and recycling after a disaster
- Knowledge management practices at different phases of the disaster life cycle
- Financial management, governance and transparency
- Compensation and insurance
- Corporate social responsibility
- Law and regulatory frameworks
- Reconstruction in conflict affected regions

- Land management after disasters
- Social aspects of rebuilding

Selected papers presented at the conference will be invited to publish in a special issue of International Journal of Disaster Resilience in the Built Environment, by Emerald Publishing www.emeraldinsight.com/ijdrbe.htm.

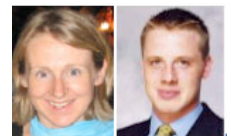

Further details about the conference can be found at www.cib2010.com.
