CIB World Congress 2010

Special Track W102

As part of the CIB World Congress 2010, which will be held from May 10th - 13th 2010, The Lowry, Salford Quays, United Kingdom, there will be a Special Track on "Managing Information and Knowledge Management in Turbulent and Uncertain Environments" as part of the activities of CIB W102 on "Information and Knowledge Management".

Papers are invited. The primary focus of this track is to present research and practice, theories, and findings in this area.

Topics

We are interested in papers covering a range of themes, including, but not restricted to:

- Placing information in facilities' design, manufacture, construction and use
- Communities of practice (CoP)
- Creating knowledge within construction organizations
- Knowledge converting, sharing and connecting
- Impact of turbulent and Uncertain Environments on Knowledge Management Initiatives
- Business case for knowledge management
- Cost and Value propositions for Knowledge Management Initiatives
- Managing Intangible Assets
- Developing learning organizations in a project environment

- Linking documentation services to the practitioners (creating a demand for documentation service)
- Information enhancing, processing, mining, retrieval and display in design and construction
- Document classification, indexing, clustering and management
- Knowledge based intelligent information and engineering systems
- Knowledge acquisition, organization and representation
- Web based knowledge management for cooperative design and construction

Abstract Submission

The extended deadline for abstract submission is 18th May 2009. All the abstracts for the CIB 2010 congress are to be submitted online. Visit the "abstract submission" page in the congress website: www.cib2010.org for information about the process.

If you need further assistance with this process, please contact Kaushal Keraminiyage on Kaushal@cib2010.org for details.

Note: If you are a postgraduate researcher planning to attend and present your paper at the World congress 2010, in order for you to be eligible for special student rate and to benefit from a wide range of postgraduate research related world congress activities, please indicate that in the abstract submission form by answering the relevant question(s).
