These are the Proceedings of the Joint CIB International Symposium, held in Montreal.
The theme of this conference "Research to Practice" focused on what was needed to meet the challenges of the ever-evolving building industry.

Societies were resolutely turning to energy efficiency, sustainability and increased harmony between people and their environment. The industry must cope with rapidly changing standards and client needs while being faced with productivity and cost control. Creativity was definitely key to this puzzle, which will be solved through a closer relationship and understanding between research and industry.

Contents
The list of content for Volume 1 of these proceedings include:

W055 - Construction Industry Economics
- Construction markets in a changing world economy
- Cost studies and design economics
- Economics of sustainability and risk management
- Macro economy and the construction sector

W089 - Education in the Built Environment
- Curriculum development and delivery
- Education in the global context
• Technology enhanced learning

W118 - Clients and Users in Construction
• Clients and user needs
• Client led innovation
• Research practice on clients

Table of contents for Volume 2 include:

W065 - Organisation and Management of Construction
• Building information modelling and management
• Business strategy
• Collaboration and integration
• Construction project management
• Design and innovation for sustainability
• Fresh perspectives on construction innovation (TG76 Special Track)
• Human resource management
• Identity crises in construction (TG78 Special Track)
• Managing global projects

Availability

The proceedings are available electronically and are published by:
Birmingham School of the Built Environment,
Birmingham City University, UK.

In the near future the proceedings will be available free downloadable on the ICONDA®CIBlibrary.

CIB Commission contacts

You can find more information on the activities of CIB W055 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB W065 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB W089 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB W118 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB TG76 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB TG78 here.

You can find more information on the activities of CIB TG81 here.