

TG15 CONSTRUCTION - CONFLICT MANAGEMENT AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Joint Coordinator Peter Fenn reports on a favourable feedback concerning the TG15 Session at the Gävle Congress which was judged as a "success".

He mentions the sparkling keynote addresses given by Michael Black QC and Colin Wall and the excellent papers presented by TG15 Members Jan Bröchner, Paul Newman and Stuart Nash and guest speakers Douglas Patin and Owen Wilson.

The TG15 Book describing practice and procedure in member countries was launched at the Congress. The production of this Book was the primary objective of TG15 when it was established and now that this immense project is completed, Peter Fenn notes that consideration must be given to its future.

More about this Book.

Earlier he posted his ideas for the Group's future work to Group members and on the Home Page: http://picard.umist.ac.uk/UMIST Building Engineering/tg15.htm/tg15.htm

Peter is inviting comments and considerations and will relay any debate around the TG15 membership.

He notes that it has been some time since TG15 last held a formal meeting and his suggestion is to arrange something during the summer of 1999. Any offers of assistance in connection with this would be gratefully received.

Membership of the Group continues to grow and Peter now has over 130 members registered in 20 odd countries. Noteworthy is the fact that recent additions include for the first time representation from Germany and Tanzania.

Peter's year at the University of Kentucky is coming to an end and he will be returning to UMIST in September.

Until then he may be contacted by e-mail at : pfenn@engr.uky.edu.